

First Vulcanair Aircraft to be delivered to Seychelles in July 2011!

Zil Air ordered the first fixed wing aircraft to add fixed-wing aircraft operations to its services.

May 2011: Casoria, Italy

Remo De Feo, Vulcanair's CEO is proud to announce the sale of the first aircraft to Zil Air, a Seychelles' operator providing luxurious air-conditioned aerial limo service between islands offering an experience that promises to be 'more than just a flight'.

This new "bird" will open up opportunities to service additional market segments that to date Zil Air has been unable to reach.

The delivery of New P68C is expected in July and the aircraft will be to operative in September 2011.

Years of experience show that P68C Series aircraft is perfectly adapted for island operations.

On 29th of April, during the launch of Vulcanair P68C aircraft, Francis Savy, Zil Air's executive director, said "The delivery of this new fixed wing twin is an exciting moment for Zil Air..." It will contribute to afford a new expanded customer base a variety of experiences at more affordable price.
